

Wilson Reading System®

Student Reader

Four

FOURTH EDITION

Wilson Language Training Corporation

www.wilsonlanguage.com

Wilson Reading System® Student Reader Four

Item # W4SR04AB

ISBN 978-1-56778-636-1

FOURTH EDITION

PUBLISHED BY:

Wilson Language Training Corporation

47 Old Webster Road

Oxford, MA 01540

United States of America

(800) 899-8454

www.wilsonlanguage.com

Copyright ©1988, 1996, 2018 Wilson Language Training Corp.
All rights reserved. No part of this work may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, or by information storage and retrieval system or network, without permission in writing from Wilson Language Training Corporation.

Printed in the U.S.A.

November 2022

► Sequence of Word Study Skills

- 4.1 vowel-consonant-e syllable in one-syllable words (hope, cave); common v-e Latin-base elements (-clude-, -fuse-, etc.)
- 4.2 vowel-consonant-e syllable combined with closed syllables in two-syllable words (sunshine, reptile); taught prefixes added to stand-alone, v-e simple words (unsafe, midsize); Prefixes added to v-e Latin-base elements to form complex words (conclude, compose)
- 4.3 multisyllabic words combining two syllable types (demonstrate, contribute); prefix added to complex words with closed and v-e syllables (unconfuse, misadvise)
- 4.4 vowel-consonant-e exception ive (olive); -ive suffix (objective), e added (dense, twelve)

► High Frequency Words

4.1	use	move	taste	none	sure uses	moved	waste	done
	using	remove	paste
	used	removed 4.2	never	cause	goes	took	food ever	because	going	look however			good
	whenever			book wherever 4.3	nothing	please	together	year	once pleases	altogether
		pleased 4.4	important	again	place	part	found against			sound
					around late

cake

file

wide

kite

hole

vote

lake

rose

base

nine

time

like

gave

note

home

case

wake

nose

bake

pale

fine

white

quite wife

gate

bite

wove

tone

rate

wave

pile

tube

name

wise

lone ate

tide

line

bone

tale

these tape

rise

wide

whale

vine

joke

take

woke

pipe

wide

pile

sake

zone

mate

while

chase

those

wake

bike

pole

fade

ride

make

mine

cane

safe

sale

male

rode chose

rose

cape

save

rope

lane

mole

tile

rule

same

shine

came side

fame

tune

mile

cone

role

size

drive

prize

flame

plane

spine

broke

slide strike

grape

theme

stone

spite

slope

clothe trade

blame

globe

smile

snake

grave

crime

scale

prime throne

grade

spoke

state

stove

frame

plate

fire

rare

cure

care

store

tire

hire

wire

ore

stare

chore

bare

tore

dare

more

dare

hire

core

more

pure

square

spare

store

shore

wore

bore

tire

scare

fire

sore

sent

five

close

date

fast

test

soft

cave

game

froze

duke

drove

plan

cloth

pride

step

hate

made

brave

list

dine

hide

fresh

dust

hope

life

site

flat

fate

pine

dines

chores

kites

holes

fines

pipes

likes

makes

games

notes

names

hires

roles

homes

drives

fades

mines

files

dares

rates

caves

gates piles

dates

bites

sales

bones

cores

moles

hopes

scales

globes

frames

slides

planes

graves

stoves

states

clothes blames

themes

grades

squares

smiles

primes

plates

flames

slopes

stones

scares

blades

crimes

grapes

snakes

stares

strikes

thrones

graze

stores

trades

dive

skate

robe

ape

flute

brake

bride

hike

ripe

snore

mane

quake

lime

dime

poke

rake

mule

stripe

vase

robe

flake

whine

quake

choke

cute

dove

bathe

skate

maze

shave

brake

dent

clip

jog

bride

ripe

fake

robe

dive

moth

clap

tack

cute

hose

whine

brag

stripe

flute

lime

pal

skip

skate

flap

maze

drip

mule

dip

scrape

hug

rust

brakes

hose

quakes

flakes

dimes

mules

robes

chokes

flutes

stripes

rakes

dives

pokes

limes

whines

dives

robes

snores

hikes

apes

brides

flutes

manes

dimes

shaves

brakes

skates

mules

whines

rakes

mime

dune

quote

cove

fare

eve

dose

lame

dire

haze

pave

bide

bale

dome

gale

lobe

fuse

gaze

cube

chide

mute

pare

nape

hive

muse

mope

daze

bate

hare

kale

shame

pane

rude

rave

cope

dupe

lathe

ruse

raze

rife

mode sole

bane

lope

wane

rite

vane

chive

doze

yoke

gape

sane

lathe

rove

pore

dote

mire

rote

pose

lore

scope

prune

plume

glare

swine

crone

strobe

braze

spike

drone

crane

fluke

gripe

blaze

crave

probe

grate

tote

clove

trove

shrine

snare

flume

strive

flare

bribe

glaze

glide

clone

grove

scribe

drape

strife

smite

grime

scathe

slate

sprite

twine

trite

brute

stake

spore

scone

shrive

chime

stride

thrive

swipe

prose

glade

spade

crate

spire

brine

snide

swore

tame

shrove

blare

crane

sap

flare

pod

pose

skid

pave

gust

cube

mope

quote

brat

slot

quip

stake

cove

nag

mesh

fret

pane

probe

brim

drone

vent

dupe

slob

bid

hush

slime

rude

quotes

scopes

blares

scribes

chimes

dunes

dupes

squires

spores

cubes

fares

grates

thrives

dotes

cloves

crates

domes

tames

spikes

copes

coves

bribes

glides strives

flukes

craves

flares

drapes

totes

drones

bope

stome

draze

swute

thrade

prete

zode

frote

stine fline

drene

blire

creve

gake

dreve

vime

grome

scole

dafe

smule

mupe

prane

jire

slive

nole

spone

wose

hape

jope

frope

fent

frast

grude

quipe

flome

drob

prab

wime

hest

blate

threme

shipe

thepe

blomp

grimp

gruth

blipe

chope

scobe

freb

tome

slabe

fote

shomp

thront

grisp

plud

grote

drim

glire

clipes

vopes

crutes

zepes

frines

wames

slires

snifes

quokes

sipes

chotes

thepes

thrades

drutes

scrobes

mipes

flimes

ploves

prumes

stopes

thomes

sheves

priles

zakes

whopes

smotes

hefes

spales

tefes

flubes

clude

fuse

pose

pute

scribe

spire

sume

quire

vise

voke

clude

fuse

pose

pute

scribe

pose

spire

vise

fuse

scribe

quire

clude

pute

sume

vise

pose

voke

quire

fuse

spire

- 1 Fran used a thick rope to fix the gate.
- 2 Nate had to remove nine cobwebs from the attic.
- 3 Ken did not waste time when he slid into home plate to win.
- 4 James moved the cake from the plate to taste it.
- 5 Kate always uses the white handbag that she got at the mall.
- 6 My dad has to shave, dress, and make sure that he is on time.
- 7 The dentist told Mrs. Smith that this new paste would make her smile white.
- 8 Are you sure the plane will cross the Atlantic in seven hours?
- 9 Dad moved the new game to the top shelf.
- 10 If you are using the rake, put it back when you finish.

- 1 Abe moved to be close to the fire.
- 2 Nate used a cane when he broke his leg.
- 3 The kite moved in the strong wind.
- 4 Hope gave the dog a bone for a snack.
- 5 Ben had to move the blanket fast when the tide came in.
- 6 They did move the date for the sale of the basketball tickets.
- 7 Are you sure that I have the best grade in this math class?
- 8 It is about time to remove the old mattress.
- 9 Just to be safe, none of you can go on that ride.
- 10 People say that cave next to the lake used to have water in it.

- 1 I moved away from the vase when it fell and broke.
- 2 Gabe had to move fast to chase the cat.
- 3 Pete is using the new pan to bake the cake.
- 4 None of my friends got my joke!
- 5 Blake is using the new robe that he just got.
- 6 I will not waste any time so I can ride my new bike.
- 7 If you win the game, you are sure to get a prize.
- 8 After we are done with our skate on this pond, we will go home.
- 9 Ann used her notes from class to check her work.
- 10 Are you sure it is safe to ride my bike down that path?

- 1 Mike tore the bag so now he will use paste to fix it.
- 2 Luke is using the spare wire to connect the lamp.
- 3 Clare wanted to taste more of the lemon cake.
- 4 Jude used a mask to scare his friend, Dave.
- 5 Beth is done putting the tube in the bike tire.
- 6 Jake said he would taste the gum then share some with me.
- 7 Are you sure this store sells water?
- 8 Mom told me to not waste time and get the chore done.
- 9 Mr. Drake will hire Tim to care for his small dog.
- 10 Can you move the square rug to the back hall?

+ suffix

- 1 None of the holes in this wall are big.
- 2 We moved the frogs to the lake to let them go.
- 3 Pete removed the old brakes from the bike and got new ones.
- 4 The blades on my skates are dull.
- 5 Dan is using Rick's laptop to finish his notes.
- 6 Mrs. Rose said the math grades would be posted right away.
- 7 Kevin and his friend Ed did admit that they broke the rules.
- 8 When you are done, remove the plates and wipe up this mess.
- 9 The red grapes on that plate are mine.
- 10 I used to be late for the basketball games, but now I work to be on time.

+ suffix

- 1 Kate got lost in the maze of stores in the big mall.
- 2 All of the tiles are flat, but they have cracks in them.
- 3 Jack moved ten piles of sand today.
- 4 Beth has to remove the blades from her skates to wax them.
- 5 He uses his brakes to stop his bike from going in a hole.
- 6 When you are done, remove the plates and wipe up this mess.
- 7 She uses a lot of jokes when she writes for the kids.
- 8 In spite of the cold, Ken will remove the stones on the path.
- 9 The slide has been removed, so let's go and ride our bikes.
- 10 None of my cat's stripes are white.

- 1 Jackson did crave a bite of the red velvet cake.
- 2 Mr. Hanson moved the swine to a new pen.
- 3 The staff had to remove the crane from the lot.
- 4 Jim used his new bat to hit a grand slam in the game.
- 5 Ed will move the hammock to the lake.
- 6 Tim will go cast his vote in his home district.
- 7 Jan was asked to probe into the case of the missing taxes.
- 8 I suspect that the shop will close at nine.
- 9 Rose was asked to remove the rugs from the den and shake them.
- 10 It is a shame that Mr. Lang went bankrupt and lost his home.

- 1 I will jog until I am done, in spite of the cold.
- 2 Mrs. White is done mending the dress with pink and white stripes.
- 3 He uses a pick to chip at the grime on the stall.
- 4 When the skit is done, Kevin will pose in the red cape.
- 5 We use the tame mule to take our bags up the cliff.
- 6 Are you sure that you did not try to bribe the cop?
- 7 We will dine at home so that we can get our work done.
- 8 If you use the tunnel on your drive, you will miss most of the traffic.
- 9 We could tell that the bride did like the taste of her cake.
- 10 Was the pane of glass moved to the shed?

- 1 The glare from the sun is quite strong today.
- 2 Wade got his leg stuck in the thick mire next to the shed.
- 3 Frank used a flare to signal that he had a flat tire.
- 4 Janet was using her new glasses to pore over the stack of text left by her boss.
- 5 The tall spire on top of the bank twisted in the gusts of wind.
- 6 Ed removed more of the toxic waste from the sandlot.
- 7 Old wives' tales and other lore are still used today.
- 8 Pete intended to get a spare tire for his used van.
- 9 We will share the bid to close the contract.
- 10 Ted's dad told him not to blare his tunes to the world.

+ suffix

- 1 Peg uses the drapes to block the sun when she naps.
- 2 The blaze of the fire could be seen for miles.
- 3 The plant in the pot thrives if you water it often.
- 4 Flames shot out of the cabin, but we had time to remove the pets to save them.
- 5 We had to move the tent to a spot in the pines.
- 6 Ted dotes over his only grandchild, Wes.
- 7 The boss states that he intends to use more staff.
- 8 When you remove the chives, the salad will be great.
- 9 Pat uses prunes in her lunch when she does not have plums.
- 10 Steve hopes that his stress will go away when the task is done.

+ suffix

- 1 My friend glides past me on her new skates.
- 2 Jen is using the soles on her flip flops to make imprints in the sand.
- 3 The bell chimes when Rob tugs on the rope.
- 4 Dave is putting the new clothes in the chest after he removes the old ones.
- 5 Dad will use strong stakes to hold the tent down.
- 6 The freshman class did not like getting a taste of the strict rules.
- 7 When they publish the profits, I am sure that my stock shares will rise.
- 8 Did you taste the scones that Zeke made?
- 9 I am sure that Ed snores in bed, but he does not think so.
- 10 The bus fares are set to go up again.

A Fine Time on the Slope PART ONE

Stan and Kate did like to slide down hills. One day, the sun shone so it was not too cold. Yet, there sure was still a lot of snow everywhere. It was too fine of a day to waste!

Stan and Kate removed their sleds from the shed. The red sled was Kate's and the black one was Stan's. The two friends set off to walk down the lane to find a big hill. While they pulled their sleds, they could not help but think of the thrill to come. At last, they made it to the bottom of a great hill. It was quite a hike, but they pushed on until they got to the top.

Stan and Kate had the sleds set to take off at the top of the slope. Kate used her hands to push Stan. Off he went! Next, Kate sat on her sled and used her legs to set off down the slope as well. The sleds went at a fast rate and it was nonstop fun, even though they had to drag the sleds back up to the top of the slope after each run.

Were these two friends done with their fun?

A Fine Time on the Slope PART TWO

The next time the pals slid down the hill, Stan had an unexpected spill. His sled twisted to the right and sent him into a big snow drift. Yet, this mild crash did not make him stop. He got up quick to get unstuck from the drift, but a small misstep landed him in a pile of wet slush. Kate called out to Stan, “You sure do scare me!”

Stan used his hat to remove the cold snow and water from his pants and jacket. After this, Stan strode right back up the hill to slide one more time. The crash did not stop Stan from the thrill of the ride. And, the taste of the cold wind and splash of snow and slush would not end his fun.

The time went by fast and the next thing they knew, it was very late. The sun was about to fade so they made one last run down the big hill. By this time, it was quite cold on the slope, but this last run was to be the best. It was a great way to end the day. Kate and Stan were done with their fun, and they pulled their sleds back to the shed until next time.

Mittens the Cat Strikes Again

With his black and white stripes, my pet Mittens is a cute cat for sure. But, do not let that trick you! We are used to the fact that Mittens often gets into things and makes quite a mess.

One day, Mittens moved the lid on the trashcan. Then, he removed the waste and junk from the trash bag and left it all over the tile. We were very much in shock when we came home to find our rubbish everywhere!

Another time, Mittens was seen jumping into the sink. He pushed the tap with his nose and had a sip of water. We thought, “How did he come up with a trick like that!”

Mittens also likes to move and hide things on us. He takes our socks and puts them in the bathtub or on our beds. What does Mittens do when he is done with this kind of joke? Well, I will tell you. He takes a very long nap!

Now, I must ask you this, “Would you like to have a cat like Mittens?”

A Hike at Jackson Lake

Miles woke up and moved fast to get to his friend Dave's home. They had plans to go for a hike around Jackson Lake. Miles and Dave knew they should hike with a pal to be safe. They always had a great time on these walks.

The two friends did not waste any time filling their backpacks with all the things they could use on a long hike. Miles had the drinks, snacks, and some spare socks. Dave had the sunblock and a map. When they were done, they made their way to the path by the lake.

Just past the bike racks, the pals pulled out their map. Dave led the way with a swift walk to the west side of the lake.

It took more than an hour to get there. The fish were jumping in the fresh lake water, and Dave and Miles sat down by the shore for a while. They ate their snacks and drank some water.

All too quick, it was time to go home. The land had been very wet in some spots, and they were sure glad they had a second set of socks for the trip home. They removed their wet socks and put on their spare ones.

On their way back, Dave and Miles saw a number of white ducks, wild rabbits, and one rare black falcon. This may have been their best hike yet!

The Cactus Plant Joke PART ONE

Mom has a lot of plants in her home and most of them do well. She uses great care and attends to them each day after work. As a joke, her son, Duke, moves a cactus plant under some blankets and away from the sun. Mom does not water the plant or see that it is missing at all.

Months go by and Duke also does not think about the plant that it is still hidden under the blankets. The sun does not shine on it and there is also a cold draft in the room. Will the plant fall victim to the drop in care and waste away?

Yes! The flat cactus spines are now tan with pink bumps sticking out everywhere. It is sure to fade fast if something is not done right away.

The Cactus Plant Joke PART TWO

One day, Mom grasps that her cactus plant is missing. She finds it when she pushes the blankets to the side. There is not much life left to the plant when she removes the blankets, and she is quite upset. Duke tells his mom that it was just a joke, and he now feels bad that the plant is so unwell. The effect of the joke was unintended, but still, Mom is very mad.

Is there hope for this sick plant? Is there anything that can be done? There sure is! Mom moves the plant to the front hall so it will get an extended sunbath. Then, she uses a big jug of fresh water to fill the pot. After five days, the spines and buds on the plant come back to life. At last, Mom smiles again! Duke is also glad that all is well in the end. He will think more before he plans his next joke.

Who will Dine with Hank?

Hank felt dismal as he sat at home. His wife, Kate, was away on a trip. Hank's day at work had been full of stress and he was not content to sit at home. It would be a shame to have another drab ham sandwich. He knew that it would not taste great and that made him crave some rich fare. Some lemon shrimp with chives would sure hit the spot! Now, he had just one problem - Hank did not like to dine out by himself.

Hank called his pal Ted, but Ted had plans to use his tickets to a basketball game. In spite of this misluck, Hank was intent on going to the Shrimp Grill to unwind and get a bite to eat.

The Shrimp Grill was just down the lane, and Hank always took care not to waste gas. So, he opted to walk this time. At the Shrimp Grill, Hank ran into Steve and Beth. He had not seen these two old friends for many months. Steve asked Hank to move over and dine with them. Hank was sure glad he did not have to dine by himself after all.

When everyone was done and the bill came, Hank gave his word that they would all pick a date to get together when Kate came back from her trip.

The Wire Contract PART ONE

Jane and Tom had to fix the wires in their old cabin by Lake Hamilton. They knew the wires in the walls were not safe or up to date. This snag was sure to pose a fire risk, and the scope of their problem was vast. All the wires did need to be removed. They also knew that the work must get done with skills both Jane and Tom did not possess. They were intent to hire the right person to get the cabin wires up to code.

Tom had the name of one man, but when he called, the man was insulting and quite rude. Jane and Tom had some time to spare, so they collected a number of bids for the contract. By the end of the month, they had gotten five quotes. Wouldn't you know - the rude man had granted the best quote! Did they dare to take the risk?

The Wire Contract PART TWO

Tom and Jane wanted to save some cash, but they did not want the rude man to bring them any stress. So, they gave the contract to the man with the second best quote. His name was Mr. Lund, and he said he could come make the cabin safe right away.

Mr. Lund did not waste any time. First he had to probe every wall. He pulled out all the busted wires and moved the fuse box. Next, he had to install new wires connecting the grid throughout the home.

When Mr. Lund said he was done, Tom and Jane inspected each signal just to be sure. In the end, they had used the best person for the chore. The talented Mr. Lund conducted a first rate job, and the cabin was safe to inhabit.

The Quake State

Dave inhabits a home out west in a state that is prone to quakes. Yet, in spite of this, he is glad to dwell there. In the past, quakes have hit many times and Dave has felt that there is not much he can do to combat this problem. The quakes have not lasted long, but it is no joke. They can shake things up for miles and miles!

The jolt of a quake can come with a sudden thrust. Dave wastes no time to make his home as safe as he can. He inspects the gaps and makes a plan for fixing these. He must get things up to code. He makes note of any object that could fall. He moves some things, and to others he attaches a strap one by one.

He connects the new gas stove and uses a clamp that flexes. Then, all the closets get new locks and bolts.

Next, Dave gets a plastic tub where he stores all the recommended things to have in a pinch. When he is done with this distress kit, he gets his contact list up to date. In this zone, Dave does expect another quake to happen. He cannot guess the time when it will strike, but he is sure his plan can lessen the impact.

lifetime

campfire

fishline

lakeside

handmade

website

baseball

gatepost

upside

off-white

classmate

make-up

notepad

springtime

sunshine

wildlife

bedtime

online

sunrise

firebug

homemade landscape

flagpole

pancake

fireside

likewise

inside

close-up

handshake

landslide

unlike

disblame

misfile

subfile

misname

midzone

unsafe

midline

disuse

dislike

unmade

midsize

unthrone

misrule

misstate

unwise

misuse

subzone

midlife

unlike

misshape

unhide

misframe

unsafe

mid-June

unpile

midlife

disuse

misrule

misspoke

complete

invite ignore

inflate

empire

decade

extreme

include evening

admire

consume

collide

compute

pollute

expose

volume

entire compare

compose

compete

explore

reptile

excuse

confine escape

confide

confuse

convene

invade

conclude completes invites escapes

evenings

extremes

decades

membranes

classmates

admires

mistakes

ignores invades

confines explores

inflates

lifetimes

insides

convenes

estates combines baseballs

reptiles

pollutes

foretells

compares collides

empires

competes

volumes

confides

invades

dislikes

computes

consumes

unthrones

misshapes

misgrades

misfires

midlines

includes

midlines

misstates

misnames

concludes

invites

includes

computes

reptiles

consumes

misstates

midlines

dislikes

misfiles

misnames

unpiles

explores

misshapes

concludes

misgrades

misfires

hillside

milkshake

rosebud

sunbathe

campsite

milelong

homesick

caveman

lunchtime

manhole

state-wide

childlike wildfire

backbone clothesline

stovetop

king-size

cupcake

pinhole

homelike

drugstore

clambake

clothespin

bedside

shoreline

man-made

fireball

lifelike

close-up

naptime

costume

fireman

umpire

plantlike

ringlike

snakeskin

hotcake

postpone

drugstore

takeoff

salesman

lineup

athlete

fishplate

explode

salesmen

tadpole

homeplate

firemen

cavemen

tubelike

trombone

shelflike

nickname

fishline

big-time

roselike

mile-long

made-up

whitefish

postpones

pancakes

costumes

wildfires

explodes

campfires

wishbones

campsites

gateposts

tadpoles

shorelines

milkshakes

websites

notepads

landslides

rosebuds

flagpoles

clambakes

firebugs

athletes

manholes

trombones

bedtimes

cupcakes

pinholes

hillsides

handshakes

backbones

umpires

hotcakes

grapevine

trade-in farewell

pile-up

shipshape

namesake

milestone

lifeline

backfire

flatware

homeland

bagpipe

all-time

fanfare

sideswipe

lifelong limestone

flare-up

frostbite

upscale

crossfire

millstone

grindstone

nameplate

update

makeshift

whalebone

sidestep

windpipe

hemline

shockwave

telltale

nosedive

self-made

backstroke

pipeline

offshore

stovepipe

sidetrack

postdate

firetrap

stoneware

sunstroke

shipmate

flashcube

upgrade

sidewise

tinware

clockwise

pipestem

gravestone

mudslide

pothole

uptake

offline

firewall

fine-tune

lifespan

smokestack

milepost

untwine

midsole

misquote

enthrone

misquote

inflamm

compile

entwine

disrobe

encode

insane

inmate

intake

midwife

enslave

frustrate

attune

immune

discrete

alcove

baptize

incline

methane lignite

cascade

translate blockade

lactose

connive

obscure mandate

allude

sulfate

impede

diffuse

hostile

obtuse

obtrude

cashmere

trapeze

contrite

vampire

exhale

ingrate

concave

attire

mundane

ignite

contrive

filtrate

exude

franchise

condone

chastise

cascade

octane

quagmire

satire

gangrene

excrete advise

inscribe

transpire

infuse

enquire

impute

convoke

impose

dispute

inspire

conspire inquire

subscribe

transfuse dispose inquire

transcribe

expire

subsume

advise

invoke

dispose

transpire

subscribe

inscribe

transpose

impose

infuse

dispute

exclude

updates	stockpiles	shockwaves pipelines	tributes	textiles firewalls	whalebones	backfires alcoves	mandates	nameplates spareribs	smokestacks	blockades timelines	potholes	bonfires bagpipes	blindsides	crossbones shipmates	mudslides	stampedes pulsates	hemlines	upgrades necklines	gravestones	farewells inspires

inhales

dictates

impales

obscuraes

translates

conspires

expires

inquires

transcribes

condones

compiles

implores inflames

impedes

aspires

disputes

connives

excludes

subscribes

inclines

contrives

subsides

consoles

adheres

commutes

inscribes

exhales

transpires

misquotes

capsate

trenzime

conbrile

explobe

drenvile

pulvene

dispote

endame

drenzime

clopfime

vilmite

glimmote

poltrume

inbefe

lomepat

colgrone

doselit

laxtile

rettume

lebetrom

plobbife

filkipe

trenfibe

frandope

oppreve

glestome

hapdame penlope

rabmede

mentrabe

- 1 The kids were sad because their mom said it was bedtime.
- 2 The food at the clambake was fantastic!
- 3 Jane sat by the fireside until she was done with her lunch.
- 4 The cake was so good because Steve used homemade frosting.
- 5 Beth and her dad sat on the bench to look at the sunrise.
- 6 It took a long time to fix the flagpole because of all the wind.
- 7 This website about baseball is full of great facts.
- 8 Whenever I can, I like to sit by the campfire with a good book.
- 9 When I met Bill, I gave him a big handshake.
- 10 Whenever there is sunshine, Trenton smiles.

- 1 Jon was quick to consume the fantastic food at the picnic.
- 2 Maxim left his bed unmade because he woke up late.
- 3 It took until mid-June to finish constructing our new shed.
- 4 Gus must try to not expose his skin to the sun.
- 5 James had to conclude his game so he could finish his book.
- 6 The forecast for mid-June does not look good.
- 7 Whenever he can, Rick likes to include his friends in his plans.
- 8 These math problems confuse me too much!
- 9 Bess is going to compose a song about her grandchildren.
- 10 It would be unwise to get too close to that skunk.

- 1 Scott and Ben are going to explore the old attic.
- 2 The ants invade the picnic blanket and attack the food.
- 3 Hope gets tickets whenever there is a tennis game.
- 4 The umpire called a strike and June was out!
- 5 Fred left his trombone in class because he does not have a case for it yet.
- 6 Is your dog going to escape if I let him out on the deck?
- 7 It took an entire decade to finish the stone wall that encompasses the lake.
- 8 Dad is going to inflate the tube so I can use it when I swim.
- 9 Chase is a good athlete, but he is best at basketball.
- 10 Eve had to admire the look of my new truck.

+ suffix

- 1 The wildfires cause smoke for miles and miles.
- 2 Dan took tadpoles from the lake and put them in his fish tank.
- 3 Mike hung the costumes in the hall closet.
- 4 Mom is going to frost Sal's homemade cupcakes.
- 5 Jane invites many friends to her book club.
- 6 Ride your bike, however, look out for the manholes.
- 7 Whenever she shakes her drink, it explodes.
- 8 Jake ate pancakes whenever his mom made them.
- 9 Shane explores the landscape when he travels to his campsite.
- 10 Pete confines his dog to a pen so he will not get out.

- 1 This book concludes with a very sad ending.
- 2 Kris forecasts strong winds for the next ten days.
- 3 The cat consumes all the food in her dish.
- 4 Wherever Ben goes, he compares the homes to his.
- 5 Alex concludes the last song, and she exits with her band.
- 6 I make mistakes whenever I take a test.
- 7 Look at all the trash that pollutes the lake.
- 8 Chad never postpones a baseball game.
- 9 Chuck dislikes fish, scallops, and clams.
- 10 Gil misstates the name of the shop at first.

- 1 Jack hit a pothole and got a flat tire.
- 2 Kim got frostbite on her nose from the long hike in the cold.
- 3 Greg said farewell to his friends as they drove off.
- 4 While we were in the lake, Jen swam by us doing the backstroke.
- 5 Look at that black ash coming from the tall smokestack!
- 6 The mudslide will cause people to panic.
- 7 My mom used her good stoneware to bake the food.
- 8 The hemline on this dress is way too long.
- 9 Blake had to fine-tune his drum set to try out for the band.
- 10 The gravestone was old and full of cracks.

- 1 Ming is going to dispose of the toxic waste in the lab.
- 2 Ben got into a dispute about the cost of the ticket.
- 3 Mr. Jackson told the kids not to exclude anyone from the prom.
- 4 Gavin had to transcribe his notes from class.
- 5 I have to advise my pal not to text while he drives.
- 6 Whenever I exclude the nuts from the cake, it is not as good.
- 7 Jake is going to inquire about the time of the baseball game.
- 8 Janet does inspire me to try my best at golf.
- 9 The milk will expire if you do not close the cap well.
- 10 The shop is going to inscribe Ted's name on the gold frame.

- 1 Trish had to ignite the sticks first to get the campfire going.
- 2 It took a long time to walk up the incline of the hill and make it to the top.
- 3 There was a stampede of fans when the game ended.
- 4 Mrs. Santon had to translate the text in the French book.
- 5 The kids do not adhere to the rules whenever Mom goes out.
- 6 I think that Kenneth will invite Jane to the prom.
- 7 Dan is thinking about investing in a food franchise.
- 8 The staff is going to compile a list of the contacts.
- 9 Use the best octane gas when you fill the tank in my truck.
- 10 Dave is the one with the long commute to work.

+ suffix

- 1 The tree that fell impedes the man from going on the path.
- 2 Pat filtrates the water to remove all the waste.
- 3 Bob intrudes on the class and distracts everyone.
- 4 The kind man consoles the child when she falls.
- 5 Meg moved the spareribs to the stove because they got cold.
- 6 The laptops will never work unless they get the software upgrades.
- 7 Our boss mandates that we come into work on time.
- 8 My home has many alcoves where I can store all my stuff.
- 9 I asked if the new gas pipelines are safe.
- 10 The van sideswipes the truck because it was traveling too fast.

+ suffix

- 1 Tess misquotes the cost of the lamp because she did not look up the facts.
- 2 Chad inscribes his wife's name on the inside of his gold ring.
- 3 Nell compiles the class list and calls everyone to invite them for brunch.
- 4 Tristan inquires about the job posted at the store.
- 5 Maddox finds a mistake on his tax bill and disputes the sum.
- 6 Mrs. Holden subscribes to ten online blogs, however, she only looks at two.
- 7 Whenever food expires, it smells very bad.
- 8 Cate aspires to become a great actress someday.
- 9 Did you ever look at what transpires at this lab?
- 10 Glen invokes the help of his dad to assist with his cause to get people to vote.

The Limestone Cave

After class, Steve ran to get his friend, Bev, to make plans to explore a cave. Then they went to go find Gabe to invite him too. Gabe was glad and felt that it would be fun to explore a limestone cave. Bev, Steve, and Gabe met in the basement of Bev's home to talk some more.

"Is the cave safe?" asked Steve.

"I think it is. I hope it is!" said Gabe. "Let's take some rope and a camping lamp, just in case," said Bev.

The next day, they took a walk to go find the cave. Inside the limestone cave, the rocks were damp and felt like paste because sunshine never hit the inside of the cave. It was a good thing that Gabe took the lamp with him.

“I am always brave,” said Bev. “Let’s go in.”

Steve put his forearm on the side of the cave.
He felt something lifelike move against his skin.

“Quick, shine the lamp here!” he said.

“What is it?” asked Bev. “Let me take a look.”

“I know it’s a bat!” said Steve.

“A bat! That is a bat for sure! Let’s move!”

Gabe, Bev and Steve ran away fast to escape the bat cave. They ran the entire way to the lake and fell right on the grass. “We had fun. However, it was a mistake to think we were brave,” said Steve. “I dislike that cave because of the bats!”

The Caveman Exhibit

In mid-June, Mr. Jones took his second-grade class to a new caveman exhibit. To get there, the class had to go on a long drive. The bus was hot, and it felt like they would never get there. However, when the clock struck nine, they had made it to the exhibit hall!

The exhibit was all about the extinct cavemen who once had a campsite on a hillside in their very state. The kids found out that the cavemen made many campfires and often went fishing on the shoreline. They used homemade fishline and it was very strong. They got so many fish with it that they had lots of food and never went unfed.

The kids saw how the cavemen made clothes out of snakeskin and other kinds of reptile skins. The cavemen had a good life up on the hillside until misluck struck them in an instant.

First, there were bad wildfires that tore through the campsite. Sometime after the wildfires, landslides made the hillside unsafe. That may have led to the end of many of the cavemen. Those that made it through the landslides had to forego their life on the hillside and find new lands. Fossils and other things were collected from the site to be used in the show. The exhibit made the cavemen come back to life!

Kendall and the Cleveland Pride

Kendall is a great athlete. She likes to compete, so she runs track, and she is in the baseball and tennis clubs as well. However, foremost on Kendall's list of things she likes is basketball! She has a lot of talent and can make any kind of basketball shot. When she explodes at the rim with a slam dunk, the fans go wild!

Kendall's dad knows how much she likes basketball. She does well in her classes and stands out in all of her athletic clubs. Because she works nonstop, Kendall's dad tells her that she is getting a special gift. He is going to take her to a Cleveland Pride basketball game. He has two tickets just for them.

Kendall never ever felt so glad. She looks up to those athletes so much, and she has never been to a Pride game.

Kendall and her dad wake up at sunrise and make the long trip to Cleveland. They dine on sandwiches and milkshakes at lunchtime. The food and drinks taste good. When they get to the game, Kendall is so glad. She stares at the big-time athletes as they run, collide, and take extreme shots. Kendall takes notes in her mind so she can work on her own jump shots, blocks, and passes. She and her dad have so much fun and talk nonstop about the game on the ride home.

The Empire Lake Trip

Zeke and Dave are best friends. Because it will be more fun for Zeke, his parents have asked Dave to come on a camping trip with them. They are going to Empire Lake, and Zeke and Dave cannot wait. The forecast calls for sun and they have a list of fun things to do when they get to the campsite. Here's how they think things will go.

On the way to Empire Lake, Dad will stop at the store to pick up food and drinks. When they get to the lake, they will unpack and put up Dad's big, handmade tent. Next, they will dig a small hole for a campfire. Zeke's mom will set up a clambake, and they can munch and rest as the sun sets on the water. They will sit and tell chilling tales at bedtime.

At sunrise, Dad is going to make pancakes for everyone. Then, they will grab the fishline and walk down to the lake. With a bit of luck, they can net more than just tadpoles! After they fish, swim and sunbathe by the lakeside, they will go to the old drive-in for a film and milkshakes.

On their last day at Empire Lake, Zeke and Dave will hike up the never-ending hillside and look for reptiles. Then, they will take one more long dip in the lake before they drive home. Zeke and Dave hope it will be the best trip ever!

The Big Upset

Ed and Tim had a basketball game against the state champs, the Tomcats. They had to rush because there was a strict rule about being on time. Mr. Duke, the coach, would stress if anyone was ever late.

It was a big game. Ed strode to the line to take the tip. He was not tall in size, but he was a gifted athlete and he could jump. Ed hit the ball to Tim, who moved to the left and took a fine shot to ignite his team.

There was not much time left on the clock and it was neck and neck. Both sides had talent and a strong will to compete.

In the last seconds of the thrilling contest, Ed made a good pass to Tim.

In an instant, Tim was at the basket extending his hand to the rim. Then, Tim was hit as a Tomcat took a swipe at the ball. However, the ball still went in. The ref gave credit for the basket and called a foul! This was not a call the Tomcats could dispute.

Tim went to the line to try to score one more time. The Tomcats had made a big mistake. Tim's shot could win the contest, and the time on the clock was about to expire. He did not panic as he bent down and used his legs to help put the ball up. It was done - the shot went right in! Everyone in the stands took to their feet. What a game! What an upset!

Tom and the Complex Math PART ONE

Tom could not cope with his math homework problems. He intended to finish them by the end of math class, but he got none of them done. He was not using an excuse for not doing the work. To be quite frank, it was very unlike Tom because he never did miss a task. There was no dispute about the fact that Tom was upset.

At lunch, he took a walk and went to inquire of Mr. Jones, the math teacher. “I have spent a long time on this and consulted my math book. In spite of that, I admit that this math still frustrates me,” said Tom. “Whenever I subtract, the numbers come up as invalid. I cannot unravel the entire problem, and now my grade is at stake!”

“Well,” said Mr. Jones, “These problems are quite complex. I do advise you to check with your classmate Jim. He is the all-time best at this kind of math. I suspect that a lot of kids want help with this as well. I also intend to do the problems, step by step, today in class.”

“Tom, you will still get credit for the work because you came to talk with me,” said Mr. Jones. “I am glad that you can ask for help whenever you get stuck. I will check in with you in class.”

“Thanks,” said Tom. “I will be sure to ask Jim to help me after I gulp down my food.”

Tom and the Complex Math PART TWO

Standing in front of the class the next day, Mr. Jones said, “Look, the cause of your stress is that these problems are very complex! It is not rote math. I suspect that many of you spent hours on this.”

“Yes!” said both Sanchez and Jake. “Most of the class did not finish, and we used our math books!”

One kid told Mr. Jones that he used his dad’s software to try to work out the problems. It took until nine p.m., but it was a waste of time in the end because he also got stuck. Some kids then went on to admit that they had just opted to quit.

“Well, try not to panic or gripe. I know none of you are slacking off. Please put your books away for now. I shall walk you through the problems and inspect them step by step. I am sure that this will remove all the stress,” said Mr. Jones as he gave Tom a wink.

Pothole Problems

The west side of Flag St. had a big pothole in the concrete, and this was a problem for the commute. Anyone attempting to go to the west side of campus tended to drive on Flag St. Now, however, their travel was unsafe. The hole had been there for over a month, and it still was not fixed.

One day, a bus fell in the vast gap and got a flat tire. This would now stall everyone's drive for a good while. It had been an extreme mistake to ignore the problem, and it did cause an unexpected traffic mess. People were in an uproar! They were quite upset because nothing had been done to establish a fix for the problem.

The very next day, the public works staff was sent to end the snag. They used a chisel to pull out the chunks of rock. They took great care to not disrupt the flagstones on the sidewalk. The water and waste inside the hole was removed next. Then they pushed fresh gravel into the hole. To conclude, they had to tamp it down to be sure there was a solid bond and level top.

People were once more content. Their drive home, to work, or anywhere was now safe!

contribute

velvetlike

distribute pocket-size

disinvite

satellite

uncombine

demonstrate valentine

incomplete

illustrate

Japanese

recognize

unconfuse

lemonade

distribute

recognize

illustrate

disinvite

satellite

velvetlike

incomplete

pocket-size

contribute

unconfuse

Japanese

uncombine

valentine

lemonade

demonstrate

confiscate daredevil

indispose

inundate

unsubscribe

safe-conduct

enfranchise

contemplate

intestate

custom-made

statesmanship

profitwise

gamesmanship

palindrome

disincline

mistranscribe

infiltrate

mistranslate

hereupon

attribute

exculpate

salesmanship

anecdote

misadvise

disenfranchise

obfuscate

devastate

statesmanlike

midshipmate

indiscrete

- 1 This notepad is pocket-size and it comes with a pen.
- 2 Fran was pleased with the gift of the velvetlike blanket.
- 3 Jane will write her valentine notes in pink ink.
- 4 Shane asked if he could distribute the snacks and drinks together.
- 5 Lon can demonstrate how to write in Japanese!
- 6 Please do not drink the lemonade unless you shake it first.
- 7 Because Robin is kind, Steve gave her a valentine last year.
- 8 I like how you illustrate these books!
- 9 My dogs will recognize me once I get back from my trip.
- 10 Put your name on your math lesson or it will be incomplete.

- 1 We have five valentines to illustrate altogether.
- 2 Jim distributes the tickets to each kid in the class.
- 3 Everyone contributes to the class picnic by bringing in a snack.
- 4 Once Mrs. Benson grades the test, she distributes them for kids to take home.
- 5 My dad demonstrates how to make a model ship.
- 6 If Blake disinvites me, I will be very mad.
- 7 Once Brock finishes his tale, he illustrates it with a black pen.
- 8 I hope she demonstrates how we can work together to fix the lamp.
- 9 Every year, the valentines please the children.
- 10 Ben contributes many skills to the basketball club.

- 1 James will demonstrate the complex math problem.
- 2 Nell has to contemplate which book to get.
- 3 Landon was a daredevil on his bike and nothing could stop him.
- 4 Val was pleased with the custom-made bench.
- 5 The boss was not pleased that the work was still incomplete.
- 6 We could not recognize the truck after the crash.
- 7 If you pass notes in class, Mr. Jackson will confiscate them.
- 8 We will contribute to the class fund this year.
- 9 We have to attribute the jazz band contest win to Jake who writes our songs.
- 10 Cal did not want to misadvise me about the best camping spot by the lake.

- 1 The water inundates the land for two months each year.
- 2 The wildfire devastates everything in its path.
- 3 Milton contemplates what gift is best for his wife.
- 4 The man-made satellites pass by the planet each year.
- 5 Once Pete demonstrates how to use the stick shift in his truck, I know I can drive it.
- 6 Ken attributes his profits to good luck.
- 7 Once the fire is set, black smoke infiltrates the entire store.
- 8 If he unsubscribes to the online blog, he will not get the bad gossip.
- 9 The midshipmates got on the ship and were pleased to set off in the Atlantic.
- 10 Ron's anecdotes about fishing always pleased his children.

Trish and the Lemonade Stand

Trish sets up a lemonade stand on hot days. She distributes cold drinks to those who stop to take a taste. She likes to make people smile, but she does not intend to make a lot of cash. In fact, she contributes all of her profits to the public food bank.

It takes a lot of work to make a good lemonade stand. Trish moves an old desk and uses it to set up her stand. She illustrates a note to hang on the desk. This way, people who pass by will know what's for sale. Then, she and her dad put water, lemons, and lemonade mix together in a big jug.

People everywhere know about Trish. Oftentimes, they rave that her homemade lemonade is the world's best! So, Trish and her dad must make a lot of this cold drink.

The cups go, one by one, as people come by to sip and talk. Before long, there is nothing left in the jug. Trish packs up her stand, and once again she is pleased with the way the day went. She thanks her dad for the help and plans to sell her lemonade all throughout the year!

A Spot for the Bikes PART ONE

Steve is ten years old and his bike is now too small for him. But today, his mom is going to the bike shop with him to get a new one! They pick out a bike that is just the right size, and Steve is pleased. It is a red bike with a velvetlike seat. The bike's pedals, brakes, and tires are top of the line!

Once Steve and his mom get back from the bike shop, Dad is quick to recognize the pride Steve has in his new bike. Steve calls his pals and asks them to come over to check out his new bike. Then, Steve sees that his dad looks upset when he says, "Just don't let me find a bunch of bikes left in the path of my truck. I will be home from work at six, and I do not want to run them over by mistake.”

Steve calls to mind the time he left his sled out and his dad ran it over. This fact is sure to contribute to Dad’s forecast about the bikes. Can Steve come up with a way to keep the bikes safe?

A Spot for the Bikes PART TWO

Dad's strict tone has made Steve think about how to solve his problem. He does not want to disinvite his friends, but where will all the bikes go? It will be lame to just drop them down on the grass or on the concrete. When Steve's friends come over, he wastes no time telling them about his plan. "We are going to build a custom-made bike rack! That way, whenever you come over to hang out, everyone will have a spot to put their bike." Steve illustrates the rack and writes out the steps to his plan.

Next, Steve distributes a job to everyone.

Altogether, they work on the project for most of the day, using scraps of metal, rope, and some bricks.

They construct a homemade bike rack in no time at all! When Steve's dad comes home from work, he admits at once that the bike rack pleases him. He says, "You kids demonstrate great skill. Now, there is no problem. My truck and all of your bikes each have their own spot!"

Calvin, the Sled Dog

It is a sunlit day, and the dogsled contest is all set to happen. Calvin, the sled dog, knows he is in good shape to contribute and command the pack. This past year Calvin has pulled Mr. Cunningham's sled to win after win. He must demonstrate his skills one more time!

How will he compare to the other sled dogs? Foremost, Calvin and his pack recognize that they have to be fast. Calvin wants to please Mr. Cunningham. He knows that some legs of the trip will be uphill, and the cold winds will sting them. It will be a test to see if Calvin can get the dogs in his pack to all work together.

A tall man will distribute the spots at the starting line. Once the signal goes off, the sled dogs will run, and Mr. Cunningham will yell the word, “Mush!”

Mr. Cunningham plans to stop every once in a while so the dogs can rest and have some food. But, nothing will stop Calvin from crossing the finish line first!

Jane's Pup is Hit

Jane's day is not going well at all. Her pocket-sized pup, Spot, is just two years old and likes to go for walks. Jane and the pup make their way down to the crosswalk. Then, a van makes a sudden move and collides with the pup. It is a blindside! This shocking mishap devastates Jane.

She holds Spot to try and stop his grunts and whines. Jane has to contemplate a way to put a custom-made sling together. She unzips her bag and finds a sash. In an instant, she attaches it to Spot's leg and makes sure he does not move. The pup has a sad gaze and Jane does her best to console him.

With no time to waste, Jane drives to the pet clinic with Spot. The vet is quick to recognize the problem right away and has to tranquilize Spot. Jane bides her time, however, she is full of distress. She has been there for over two hours!

At last, the vet comes out with Spot. Jane's stress diminishes once she sees Spot. The pup wakes up and gives Jane a content look. Nothing pleases her more than to know that Spot will be all right in the end.

Josh and Todd Make a Profit

Josh is a whiz with websites. Together with his best friend, Todd, they get contracts to update websites and make new ones too. Most years, they demonstrate a solid profit. They recognize the time that it takes to concoct and embellish the websites with great snapshots and text. They never rush and always commit themselves to contribute both their time and talent to each task. These attributes help Josh and Todd expand their website work.

Last month, they had a big stroke of luck. Dr. Ross, a dentist, had plans for a website but did not have the skillset to complete the job.

Dr. Ross gave Josh and Todd a call, and they told him that nothing would please them more than to make a fantastic website for him. However, they would have to get together to go over Dr. Ross' wish list and contemplate the best way to address his website.

Once they began the job, it did not take as much time as they thought it would. Altogether, it only took six days to construct the content for the website. When they were done, Dr. Ross had to admire their work and gave Josh and Todd a handsome sum. He said that he would subscribe to their work again. They had made Dr. Ross glad, and they also made a big profit!

massive	connective	disruptive expressive	collective	subjective objective	enactive	effective distinctive	contractive	possessive contrastive	productive	constructive subjective	constructive	distinctive active	instructive	contractive possessive	conflictive	disruptive impressive	conductive	connective attractive	massive	affective dense

solve

impulse

expanse

tense

condense

nonsense

immense

sense

twelve

expense

dissolve

intense

involve

absolve

involve

rinse

expense

tense

shelve

nonsense

impulse

intense

immense

condense

expanse

twelve

solve

dissolve

dense

abstractive	obsessive	transgressive compressive	afflictive	inductive obstructive	prospective	addictive aggressive	dismissive	instinctive inflective	impassive	combustive

valve	pulse	lapse
glimpse	delve	offense
collapse	suspense	apse
helve	flense	valse
dulse	dispense	grilse

- 1 Hank looks attractive in his new red jacket.
- 2 Seth will give his dog a big hug around his neck.
- 3 Jill had to look around to find the connective wire for the laptop.
- 4 Cliff did not like that he found part of an olive in his salad.
- 5 The small child was active when she took her place on the plane.
- 6 That disruptive sound woke me up!
- 7 Beth went against her mom's wishes and got an expensive dress at the shop.
- 8 The sunset at the Grand Canyon was impressive!
- 9 Peg did her part to fix the massive hole in the concrete.
- 10 It is important to give the pup some water every day.

- 1 Liz's constructive thinking has been a big help around here!
- 2 The live reptile exhibit was quite impressive.
- 3 Rick had to give his mom a call for a ride home.
- 4 The new shop had many attractive dresses hanging on the racks.
- 5 The disruptive sound made the kids jump up from their desks.
- 6 Max thinks that I have a distinctive smile.
- 7 Can you find an effective way to rid this place of bugs?
- 8 Kris did not intend to live in Boston for more than two years.
- 9 I found Ed to be possessive about his new truck.
- 10 The objective of the game is important to know so you can win!

- 1 On a sudden impulse, Bill quit his job.
- 2 Brandon will travel to Wisconsin at his own expense.
- 3 The wind and fire are so intense that no place is safe.
- 4 Because of the dense fog, we could not see anything.
- 5 I found twelve cups in the box.
- 6 Please rinse the olives and place them in the dish.
- 7 Jack does not want to involve me in this big project.
- 8 This book makes no sense at all!
- 9 It is important that we solve this problem.
- 10 Will this tablet dissolve if I put it in water?

- 1 Brad gave Jude an impressive gold ring with white stones!
- 2 The most constructive way to use your time is to plan first.
- 3 The chipmunk's objective was to smash the nut against the rock to crack it.
- 4 That aggressive dog bit my leg!
- 5 The class found the tale about the first trip around the world instructive.
- 6 Around the end of the month, the club will hold a festive banquet.
- 7 Steve did not think the help was constructive.
- 8 The script that Pete found is quite impressive.
- 9 Eve's talent for singing was instinctive.
- 10 I have extensive, but important, work to do on my taxes.

- 1 Jim had to shut the valve off to stop the gas from spilling.
- 2 Jess will dispense the pills to the sick man again.
- 3 Tim is going to delve into a new book again.
- 4 Ken went to great expense to take his bride on an impressive trip after they wed!
- 5 The entire class felt tense when Mr. Sheldon found them being inattentive.
- 6 The incline of that hill is too intense to sled down without a helmet!
- 7 It is important for the cops to solve this crime.
- 8 I do not like to be left in suspense.
- 9 Janet was quick to take offense to the bad joke.
- 10 I only got a glimpse of the culprit as he ran around the bank.

Anton's Bake Shop PART ONE

Anton wants to be the boss of a bake shop. Everyone knows about his talent with cupcakes and muffins. However, the most important thing he bakes is custom cakes. His frosting is world class stuff!

After a year of looking, Anton has found the right spot to rent! It's a small place and it is a bit run-down, but he thinks he can make it impressive. He pulls together twelve of his friends and asks them to take part in getting the spot looking attractive again.

Anton puts his friends to work on the extensive job right away. First, they remove an old shelf and put up a new one. Then, they give the place a fresh and distinctive look throughout. Gold blinds are hung on metal rods, and a bell is hung at the front of the shop. It is a productive day. Anton takes a long look around the shop and is so pleased!

Anton's Bake Shop PART TWO

The next day, Anton goes to the town common and distributes ads about his new bake shop. He wants to take an active part and make sure the shop is a big hit. The ad says that anyone who comes to his new place will get a red velvet cupcake! It is expensive to give away products, but it is important because it will be good for sales in the end.

The big day comes and Anton has frosted all of the cupcakes. By ten a.m., Anton has a shop full with people! Anton is attentive to everyone as they taste all of his fresh food. The public is pleased, and they think his cakes are impressive. His plan has been quite effective. In fact, he sells all his goods in one day. Now it is time to bake again!

A Pig Who Does Not Like Mud?

We all know that pigs just love mud. In fact, they spend a lot of time swishing around in the stuff. Piglets also like to involve themselves in fun in the muck.

It is not very attractive, but it can help them be cool when it's hot outside. The mud can also be an effective sunblock for their pink skin and play an important part in helping to get rid of ticks and other bugs.

One day, the pigs at Mr. Nelson's ranch were once again in the massive mud pit. Well, most of the pigs were in the pit. One very small piglet, called Grime, did not want to take part in this wild mud flop.

With a name like Grime, you would think he would be the first piglet to jump in the mud. However, Grime sat off to the side. He was not pleased with all the mess around him! He did not care if it was a pig rule, he would not be found in that dense pit of mud.

Mr. Nelson was attentive to his pigs, and he knew that he must involve Grime in games. He pushed and pulled Grime with no luck. After a while, Grime's mom came over and gave an immense grunt. In an instant, Grime set off to the mud pit. The instructive command had been effective. It was important for Grime to get in the mud and have fun. And, that he did!

The Not-So-Impressive Date PART ONE

Jake called Olive and made a date to dine at the grand banquet. The festive night would bring cash to a good cause. Olive was rich and quite distinctive. Jake felt it was important to impress her, and he wanted to demonstrate that he had polish and class.

Jake found himself some expensive pants and an attractive new jacket. Then he made sure he had a close shave. Jake suspected that Olive may not recognize him after all this.

When Jake made it to Olive's place to pick her up, she was pleased about his look. Jake and Olive drove to the banquet and met up with Steve and Jan. That evening was sure to be a step up from most of Jake's dates.

The Not-So-Impressive Date PART TWO

It did not take too long for Jake to be back to his old self again. When the banquet food came, he was distracted and altogether inattentive. He did not place a good grip on his plate. This made him drop a massive pile of spareribs on his lap. His expensive pants were now a complete mess!

Jake's mistakes prompted Steve, Jan, and Olive to poke fun at him. They said he was disruptive, but Jake did not think it was important. He always wanted to be constructive, so he let them joke and stare.

When the band ended their last song, Olive gave Jake a big kiss. In fact, Olive did still like Jake, in spite of his immense mess. On his part, Jake was glad that Olive was not a snob and was pleased that they both found jest in the date.

Gavin's Gift

Gavin is in tenth grade and has impressive skills constructing just about anything. He can tell you how to install a pump valve and consult with you about fixing any object.

Gavin also knows about truck parts - drive shafts, cranks, and pedals. Gavin helps everyone around him solve problems over and over again. Nothing is too complex for him. He uses one gimmick after another to be effective. He delves into the task and does not stop working until everything is sound and back in place.

Gavin uses his wisdom to do good for others. At his own expense, he mends busted objects for his friends. Gavin is also attentive to his dad's truck and checks the tires and fan belt without being asked.

His talent is somewhat compulsive, but Gavin knows it is important to give back. He often walks around town and extends a hand to anyone in need. One day, he moved a ranch wagon that had gotten stuck in a massive hole. Helping people makes him glad. Gavin wants to live in a world where people never stop helping one another.

NOTES
