

Wilson Reading System®

Dictation Book Steps 7-12

WRS Fourth Edition

Steps 7-12

Dictation Book

Wilson Reading System®

Dictation Book

Steps 7-12

FOURTH EDITION

Wilson Language Training Corporation

www.wilsonlanguage.com

no current high frequency words

(1)

I left my pencil and my math notes on the bus.

If you use logic, you can solve the math problem.

Did Mrs. Smith suggest which book to give to Tim?

The vet wants me to be more specific about the problem.

I cannot concentrate well when I study with my best friend.

(2)

Grace asked the shop owner to reduce the price of the bracelet.

You must be precise when you tell me how much rice to prepare.

(3)

When will we discuss these concepts?

Do not misplace your ticket before the baseball game.

Steve will get a small refund when he recycles those cans.

necessary, excellent, police, special, especially, false

(1)

Be especially gentle with the little puppy.

The stage looks especially nice for the fall program.

Is it necessary to put the dish of rice on a place mat?

AB

Twice last month, the police helped at a school event.

Mr. Nash did an excellent job fixing the cement steps.

Ask for advice about that especially difficult problem.

A friend gave me false advice about my trip to the city.

Did that gentleman provide a false statement to the principal?

The police told us about the new policy when they visited our school.

(2)

Their statement that they reside in the city is false.

The police will decide if the ice is safe to skate on.

Did the children produce an excellent crop of spinach?

Cindy will produce a special magic act on the large stage.

It is especially important to reduce the number of wildfires.

(3)

The police will restage the events to solve the crime.

Jake gave a special prize to his classmates recently.

Is it necessary to get a replacement for that bike tire?

It is especially disgraceful to misbehave in a public place.

Can the police retrace my steps to locate the missing device?

It is necessary to pack carefully so you do not misplace items.

Note: Throughout this book, remember to reference the "Words" pages for each substep for categories divided by dashed lines on the "Sentence" pages.

7.1

SENTENCES

no current high frequency words

- (1) The citrus grove is adjacent to the lake.
The cyclone will devastate everything in its vicinity.
That tent is our place of refuge from the cold and wind.
Would you mind asking Mike what time the cinema opens?
- (2) The candidate had to concede the race to his opponent.
The concept of a tangent line is difficult to comprehend.
Was Jenna able to deduce the answer to the algebra problem?
- (3) I distrust Nick because he often acts insincerely.
Tim jumped up and gave his mom a huge embrace.
I explicitly instructed the class to complete their work.

B

necessary, excellent, police, special, especially, false

- (1) Her new job provides Kathy with an excellent wage.
Bruce is especially diligent about finishing his work.
Jim bought some municipal bonds for an excellent price.
The police were already in the vicinity when I called for help.
It is necessary to reconcile your bank statement every month.
Jeff thinks lime gelatin and a citrus drink are a special snack.
- (2) If you incite a citizen at the protest, I will call the police.
It is necessary to be concise when you instruct an adolescent.
- (3) I am especially mad when Jim acts condescendingly.
If you deface that wall, your punishment will be especially severe.

no current high frequency words

(1)

Dad will help Hank replace the old fence.
 Kelly fell on the ice when she lost her balance.
 Her pony will prance when she pulls the straps.
 Mom sent a note to excuse my absence from class.

(2)

The game today will be dodgeball.
 You can have some fudge after you finish the chores.
 Can you wedge the folder between two books on that shelf?
 Our class did pledge to contribute fifty cans to the food drive.

(3)

Hedgehogs often make their nests beside shrubs.
 Because I learned the facts, I did not misjudge his request.

guess, guest, length, strength, change, range, arrange, strange, stranger, danger, orange

(1)

The presence of a stranger did not upset me.
 I will invite a guest to attend my dance class.
 Can you balance an orange on top of those apples?
 Janet took a glance at the orange slice on her plate.
 It is a challenge to develop the guest list for the event.
 Can we convince Dad to extend the length of his visit?
 Our pets will be in danger if we do not replace the fence.
 He did arrange to get tickets well in advance of the dance.
 It is strange that the prince does not want to visit the castle.

(2)

Henry is the guest judge for the dance contest.
 We will hike the length of the ridge on our next trip.
 We will arrange to have some fudge sent to our friends.
 Midge will ride her new, orange bike across the bridge.
 Please do not arrange the plates on the edge of the table.
 Every New Year, I make a pledge to change my bad habits.
 I will not have to change my sandals if I dodge the puddles.
 James thinks about the danger as he inches along the rocky ledge.

(3)

I must reconvince my mom to invite that guest for brunch.
 Do not misjudge the stranger just because she is new to our class.
 Rebalance the bottles, since they are in danger of falling off the shelf.

AB

no current high frequency words

(1)

The rose with a tinge of pink is nice.

The wild animals will scavenge in the trash.

We will indulge in an extra-long trip to the shore.

Jim could not convince me to plunge into the cold water.

Mom hung a valance along the shelf to hide the empty boxes.

(2)

I will plant a hedge at the edge of our land.

Steve still holds a grudge against his boss.

Alexa and Grace trudge up the side of the mountain.

(3)

Seth made some enhancements to the city budget.

Be careful not to infringe on his land when you hike.

B

guess, guest, length, strength, change, range, arrange, strange, stranger, danger, orange

(1)

That strange music will put me in a trance.

The strength of his handshake made me wince.

After that prank, we are in danger of their revenge.

Do you think the stranger will divulge his identity?

(2)

I do not begrudge the guest the last bag of chips.

Roman did not recognize the stranger visiting the lodge.

My husky has the strength to pull the sledge across the ice.

Sandra will arrange the hodgepodge of cupcakes for the bake sale.

(3)

We will be in danger if you dislodge that large rock.

Can you guess why fledgless robins are unable to fly?

no current high frequency words

- (1) Can your little brother write the alphabet?
Did you write that phrase at the top of the page?
Kate hopes to win the trophy at her tennis match.
- (2) Does your dog like to fetch a ball?
Tim had a huge scratch on his leg from the tomcat.
Ben struck his nose on a rock when he fell in the ditch.
- (3) Fred unlatches the gate at the ice rink.
I must rephrase my response to our principal's request.
- (4) Did you print the photographs for my album?
Bruce must use a microphone when he sings on a stage.

knowledge, watch, physical, science, scientist, scientific, college

- (1) I will request pamphlets to help select a college.
Jake plans to attend college to study philosophy.
Did Dad emphasize his wish to get a new watch?
AB Vinny will graph the scientific results for our final project.
To win a trophy, Ralph must be in excellent physical shape.
- (2) The scientist hopes my data will match her results.
Gretchen sent a photo of her new watch to her dad.
Did you have any knowledge of the switch in our plans?
Can you provide a sketch of the new lab to the scientist?
You should not conduct this scientific study in your kitchen.
- (3) Constance will watch while I bake two batches of muffins.
I had no knowledge of the rematch between the two clubs.
I stitched the patch on my jacket before I went to college.
His science test scores are unmatched by anyone in our class.
- (4) Mitch hopes to take a photography class in college.
Will we learn to use a microscope in science class?
The scientist used a telescope to study several planets.
I spoke to Kent on the telephone when he was in college.
- (5) Did Joseph photocopy his notes from science class yet?
Watch how I carefully remove a hot dish from the microwave.

no current high frequency words

- (1) Did you pick up a pamphlet at the front desk?
Philip is phobic about visits to the dentist.
Janet was emphatic when she said she did not take the pencil.
- (2) What is that red splotch on your face?
Meg had to clutch at the bench to prevent a fall.
Look for a notch in the branch to follow the path when you hike.
- (3) Mack siphoned some gas from his tank to put in my truck.
- (4) Jan asked for monograms on her backpack and lunch box.
- (5) Mike will telecommute to his new job.
She must replace a microchip in her laptop.

B

knowledge, watch, physical, science, scientist, scientific, college

- (1) Ralph will be a sophomore in college next fall.
The scientist did not have aluminum phosphate in her lab.
- (2) Can they etch the date on the back of his watch?
Our scientific lab has a top-notch rank throughout the world.
- (3) The professor will expand your knowledge of photons.
I will ask why my leg is twitching at my next physical exam.
- (4) Did you watch Mrs. Small inspect the old telegram?
We must compose a monograph for our final college project.
- (5) Stan plans to study microeconomics in college this spring.
Do you plan to watch the live telecast of the basketball game?

no current high frequency words

- (1) Pam will find a solution.
I asked Mom for the definition of that word.
Please invite my best friend to the celebration.
- (2) Bob will help me put the television on that shelf.
The explosion left a large hole in the kitchen wall!
If Ralph does not pass the vision test, he will get glasses.
- (3) I made a good impression when I met the principal.
Steve will make a prediction before we watch the film.
- (4) Jim will select a nonfiction book.
You may have indigestion if you drink too much milk.

national, themselves, ourselves, half, whole, whom, whose, question, suggestion

- (1) We only have half a bottle of suntan lotion.
Did Sandra mention whom she asked to the dance?
I asked a question about the introduction of his novel.
AB We will spend our whole vacation camping by the pond.
To whom did you give the description of the spacecraft?
Did Fran like my suggestion for the location of the dance?
Whose suggestion was it to change the position of his desk?
- (2) We must come to a decision by ourselves.
You will own half of the land after the division is final.
Joseph had a question about the extension on the project.
Jane has a question about the revision we made to her text.
The erosion of sand along the shoreline is a national problem.
Sandra must finish the whole book to learn about my conclusion.
- (3) We should have this discussion ourselves.
Half of our class asked about that local expression.
Will you help me do the subtraction question on this test?
- (4) The reaction to my suggestion was very positive.
Can he cancel the whole transaction to stop the shipment?
Whose misconception prevented you from finding a solution?
Mr. Wall told us to look at the instructions for the whole quiz.

no current high frequency words

- (1) Did you make a resolution for the New Year?
We must refill the prescription at the drug store.
- (2) Can we visit the mansion during our trip?
Why did she make a tiny incision in the skin?
The exclusion of his classmate from the lunch table was unkind.
- (3) I will list that deduction when I file my taxes.
Make a careful inspection of the tires before you drive the truck.
- (4) Be sure to include quotations from that text.
His indiscretion upset his mother and father.
We will ask Tim about his emigration from Africa to France.

B

national, themselves, ourselves, half, whole, whom, whose, question, suggestion

- (1) Calculations using fractions are difficult for the whole class.
To whom do you want me to send this book about nutrition?
Did you think his suggestion would cause an imposition for me?
- (2) Joseph plans to save half of his pension this year.
My comprehension question requires a description of the plot.
Bob gave us the exact dimensions to make the cabinet ourselves.
- (3) Whom did the culprit name in his confession to the detective?
The national plan must provide some options for product development.
- (4) Drink the whole bottle of water to prevent dehydration.
Jake had a premonition that half of the cash would be lost.

no current high frequency words

- (1) Aren't you going to attend the presentation today?
She shouldn't let her dogs track mud in the house!
- (2) I've finished putting the books on the shelf.
I'm going to the store before school to get donuts.
We've sent all the campers to their cabins to unpack.
They'll make a decision about the project next month.
- (3) Henry finally responded to his mom's call.
Dave's talent helped him win the dance contest.
- (4) Ben put fresh food in all the animals' dishes.
Judith bought her children's gifts at the mall.

body, anybody, everybody nobody, somebody, won't, usual, usually, probably, either, neither

- (1) I didn't finish the book and neither did my mom.
My body doesn't require as much rest as yours does.
James didn't tell everybody about his vacation plans.
AB Hasn't anybody finished their online class this month?
Bill won't tell Mr. Smith that he couldn't find the photos.
I can't complete the math project and neither can Steve.
- (2) We'll tell Dad that I won't come on the trip.
Usually he'll attend the baseball clinic with me.
As usual, there's nobody I know to sit with at lunch.
I'm going to find somebody to help us prepare lunch for Dad.
Nobody gave us any indication that she'll miss the reception.
I'll find out if somebody will give us time off to finish this project.
- (3) Did anybody refill the dog's water dish?
Beth will probably fold the baby's blanket.
Everybody should follow Dad's excellent advice.
As usual, my class's conduct upset the principal.
Neither of Amy's stepchildren helped her set the table.
- (4) Does anybody know the ships' locations?
Stan usually gets his clothes at the men's shop.
Mike will probably take several candidates' photographs at the debate.

no current high frequency words

- (1) You can't ignore my dog when she wants to fetch the ball.
We weren't witnesses to the collision in front of the school.
- (2) What's Cindy bringing to the potluck brunch?
You'll love the new yoga mats that Gretchen bought.
She'll investigate the mutation of genes during science class.
Since it's wilted, Nancy will remove the spinach salad from the table.
During the fall, there's a large number of donations to the food pantry.
- (3) I asked for Dan's recipe to prepare grilled eggplant.
The candidate's family will attend the rally after the debate.
Ben's new job provides an excellent wage and ample time off.

B

body, anybody, everybody nobody, somebody, won't, usual, usually, probably, either, neither

- (1) I didn't know that somebody left the gate unlatched.
Constance won't neglect to thank the children who aren't present.
Shouldn't we stall for a moment, so they won't miss the first dance?
- (2) Usually he'll walk to work to bask in the sunshine.
Since Jason won't hold a grudge, I'll take his snack.
She's probably ready to write the conclusion to her spy novel.
Has anybody found the list of who's requested to attend the banquet?
- (3) Usually my dog's instinct is jump into the water.
Were the animal's tracks made by either a fox or a dog?
Alfred's heart defect will probably restrict him from going on the hike.